

The Backend Code Folder

This folder contains the backend code files for your site. These files correspond to the ones found in the Backend section of the Public & Backend

{} tab in the Velo sidebar. Add the following files to this folder to include them in your site:

- Web Modules:

These are files that allow you to expose functions in your site's backend that you can run in your frontend code. These files require a `.jsw` file extension.

Note:

You can't change web module permissions in Wix editors when using Git Integration & Wix CLI. Instead, use the permissions.json file to set function permissions.

- data.js

A file for adding data hooks to your site's collections
